The Presbyterian College.

In 1857 the Rev. Dr. Robt. Burwell was called to the Presidency of this Institution and under his management the College took its place among the institutions for the higher education of women. During the forty years of its history there have gone out from these walls some of the most useful and cultivated women in the land, who bear witness to the faithful and thorough work done by those intrusted with their education. A few years ago Dr. William R. Atkinson, under whose management this College became one of the most prosperous in the Presbyterian denomination in the South, moved to Columbia, S. C., and finally sold all his interest to the Presbyteries of Mecklenburg and Concord.

The plan of the Presbyteries is to offer a cheaper education to women without detracting in the least from its thoroughness. There is a Joint Board of Directors who have entire control of the College, and who have employed such a faculty as is necessary in an institution undertaking the higher education of women. They have eliminated all possible profit that usually comes to the management of a College. Only the necessary running expenses and salaries of teachers are to be provided for. In this way they are able to offer the same courses of study that other Colleges of similar standing give, at from fifty to sixty dollars less than they offer it, where there is no endowment or State aid.

This effort on the part of the Presbyteries should commend itself to all Presbyterians having daughters to educate. While under Presbyterian control, all denominations are received and taught without interference with their beliefs. A comparison of catalogues will reveal a course of study identically the same as the schools demanding greater cost.

The Music School offers superior advantages in its various departments.

The buildings are neatly furnished and located in a plat of ground of five acres in the best resident part of the city, thus giving the pupils access to all that the city offers in the way of instruction and profit, without unnecessary exposure or expense.

The religious and home life of the College is all that any one could desire.

Location.

The College building is situated on one of the highest points in Charlotte, in the central part of the city, just one block from the electric car line. The grounds are beautifully shaded by large trees.

No better location than Charlotte could have been secured—one of the oldest cities in the South. With her thrifty, enterprising people, she has outstripped all other North Carolina towns, having now a population of over 28,000. The climate of Charlotte is rarely excelled, and no extremes prevail. The average temperature is 59 degrees F. The College building is approximately 800 feet above sea level. Being a railroad centre, Charlotte is easily accessible, and within convenient reach of all sections. The most cultured and refined people compose her population, and it is famous as a "City of Churches."

It is a Presbyterian community, and there are six Presbyterian Churches in the city, having a membership of over 2,000. In the midst of a Christian people, in a Presbyterian town and community, with a healthy climate, and above all under the control of a Christian Faculty, the College is all that could be desired.

The College Building.

The house with its broad halls, high ceilings and other advantages, is comfortable and pleasant. It is heated by hot water, lighted by gas, and has the best modern plumbing.

New Management.

The Board of Directors have been fortunate in securing Rev. J. R. Bridges as President of the College. Mr. Bridges is a man of accurate scholarship, refined Christian culture, and has a wide acquaintance in the Church through the pulpit and the religious press. We feel confident that the friends of the College will find in the new President those qualities so much desired in one at the head of an institution for the education of women. We commend Mr. Bridges to the confidence of the public, believing that those who commit their daughters to his care will find him faithful to the trust.

Miss Lily W. Long, who has so successfully conducted the affairs of the College for the past two years, remains as Lady Principal.

The Board feels that under this management, the College commends itself anew to its friends and patrons.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

THE GOVERNMENT.

The whole government is conceived and executed with a view to making the College a pleasant, busy, and therefore happy and well ordered home. Its object is to develop self control, high character, and a desire to do the right because it is right.

Courtesy and kindness are the uniform rule of the institution. The honor, pride and interest of the students in the success of the College are appealed to. Self-government is fostered as far as possible. The self-governed are always the best governed.

It will be the aim to give to the students every privilege consistent with student life and good discipline. But rules found necessary for the best ordering of a large body of students will be firmly, though kindly, enforced.

Those students who will not study or conform to the requirements of the College, will be promptly sent home.

REMARKS ON COURSES OF STUDY.

The course of study in the Collegiate Department is divided into the following distinct and complete schools:

- 1—School of English.
- 2—School of Mathematics.
- 3—School of Natural Science.
- 4—School of Bible.
- 5—School of History.
- 6—School of Mental and Moral Science.
- 7—School of Latin.
- 8—School of Greek.
- 9—School of Modern Languages.
- 10—School of Music.
- 11—School of Art.

Primary Department.

Since the foundation is the most important part of any structure, especial care is taken to lay it properly in the first years of school life.

In this department suitable methods are used to quicken the faculties of the pupils. Reading is taught from the blackboard and Moses' Phonic Readers with supplementary reading. The elements of Arithmetic are taught by blocks, counters, splints, picture examples, etc. In Geography, Frye's method is used with sand moulding, observation of nature, etc. Simple historical stories are read to the children for oral or written reproduction. In the same way Bible stories are made attractive. There are also regular lessons in Drawing, Penmanship and Physical Culture. Weekly lessons on common plants, animals and insects are given orally by the teacher.

Intermediate Department.

During the years spent in preparation for higher work, there will be daily drill in Reading, Spelling, Penmanship, Arithmetic through fractions, denominate numbers, and percentage; Grammar through Mary Hyde's Language Lessons, Part II. (with supplement); Geography, Maury's Manual, Fryes' Manual; Reading from Classics for Children; Geographical Reader or some standard periodical for young people. Home reading directed by the teacher with frequent discussions and compositions on the subject matter read. Special attention will be paid to Letter-Writing, Dictation and Reproduction. One Bible lesson each week with regular Physical Culture lessons. Latin begun—Tuell & Fowler's Beginner's Book.

School of English.

The aim of this department is to train the student to express herself clearly and correctly and to create a taste for good literature in whatever form presented. The course is progressive from the simplest and easiest to the most difficult—from Dictation and Reproduction through the sentence and the paragraph to the essay. Each class is required to do a certain amount of collateral reading. After careful and full discussion of these masterpieces in the class-room, essays will be required, so that the instructor may know that the works read are correctly apprehended and assimilated.

SUB-FRESHMAN YEAR.

Required—Irving's Sketch Book, Hawthorne's Tanglewood or Twicetold Tales, Lamb's Tales from Shakespeare.

Reading Course.

BOOKS PRESCRIBED FOR 1899.

For Reading—Freshman Class.

The Last of the Mohicans, Pope's Homer's Iliad, Flight of a Tartar Tribe, The Sir Roger de Coverley Papers, The Vicar of Wakefield, Dryden's Palamon and Arcite.

The Rime of the Ancient Mariner, Macbeth, Paradise Lost, Books I. and II., Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America, Carlyle's Essay on Burns.

Junior Class.

Twenty-seven masterpieces from "Beowulf" to "Idylls of the King."

Senior Class.

Nineteenth Century Masterpieces.

School of Mathematics.

We rely upon this department to correct any tendency to inaccuracy and to train the mind by clear and rapid analysis, to develop original thought and to stimulate to habits of thoroughness. Geometry is treated as a branch of practical logic, the object of which is to detect and state with precision the successive steps from premise to conclusion. Wentworth's Syllabus of Geometry and Geometrical Exercises will be used. In Sophomore and Junior classes copious use will be made of original exercises. Every effort will be made in these classes to seek the truth for its own sake.

It is the aim of this department to teach with clearness and accuracy both theories and facts, not only for the present development of mind and memory, but for future reference and knowledge. Physiology is studied in connection with Anatomy and Hygiene, that the student may have an intelligent understanding of the human body and the laws that govern it. The study of Botany is pursued with the view of obtaining a thorough knowledge of the structure of plants.

Zoology is made both interesting and instructive by looking into habits of animals and by classifying them. Chemistry and Physics will be studied by means of lectures and recitations, with such practical applications as may be needed. Astronomy and Geology will be presented in as broad and as practical a manner as possible. The geological formations of the vicinity will be utilized by the class in periodical field excursions.

School of Bible.

Throughout the entire course from the Primary Department to the presentation of the Bible with the Diploma, its study is made an essential feature. It is constantly held up as God's inspired word and the revelation of His will to man, and as such, the student is taught to glorify and honor Him by its systematic study. The objects of this school are three-fold :

1. To learn how to study the Bible.
2. To gain an adequate and practical knowledge of the history of the kingdom of God and of the Christian religion.
3. To instil its precepts as the guiding principles of life.

The methods used to attain these ends are regular class-room drills in contemporaneous History and Geography, with analysis of books and chapters of the Bible, which is made the main text-book. Each student should be provided with a good reference Bible, Teacher's Edition.

The course is as follows :

- First Year*—Creation to Kingdom ; Syllabus O. T. History (Shearer); Manual of Biblical Geography (Coleman).
- Second Year*—Old Testament Completed ; same text books.
- Third Year*—New Testament ; Syllabus and Manual Continued.
- Fourth Year*—Evidences of Christianity.

School of History.

It is endeavored in this department to instil into the minds of the pupils the great principles of the rise and fall of nations, to arouse enthusiasm in the study of History. The course is designed to cover the origin and growth of nations, governments and institutions from the creation to the present time, and also to interest the student in independent investigation of the subject in its widest aspects as well as in the many practical questions springing up in governmental and social sciences. Text-books are supplemented by parallel works of different authors.

Mental and Moral Science.

1. Logic, Inductive and Deductive.
2. Psychology and History of Development.
3. Metaphysics ; Theism ; Philosophy of Religions.
4. Moral Science ; Ethics ; Historical Christianity.

This is a two years' course. Three recitations a week. Moral Philosophy or Ethics will receive less attention than Psychology and Logic, because the fundamental principles have been previously inculcated in the Bible course. Written analysis of the subjects considered will be required in order to develop individual thought and expression.

The elements of Logic are used to indicate sound methods of establishing the truth and to make strong thinkers and writers.

Text Books—Elements of Psychology (Davis); Haven's History of Philosophy Lectures. Logic (Davis). Moral Philosophy (Janet). References: Practical Philosophy (Dabney), Emotions (McCosh). First Truths (McCosh), Human Intellect (Porter).

School of Latin.

The course in Latin extends over four years. In the Freshman and Sophomore Classes the study is required ; in the Junior and Senior Classes it is optional.

Attention is paid both to the grammatical and to the rhetorical structure of the language, and throughout the course accuracy of translation and the analysis of the sentence are constantly insisted upon.

Careful training is given in writing Latin. For this purpose original connected exercises are employed, as well as approved exercise books.

During the session frequent written review examinations are held, and the student is given much practice in written translations.

No elective class will be organized for less than three pupils.

School of Modern Languages.

Some knowledge of French and German is considered essential to a polite education. French or German will be the language of the class-room as far as practicable. Practical experience has shown that a quicker working knowledge is obtained by combining the Natural and Analytical methods, therefore that course will be pursued with these languages.

For those desiring a fuller course than the two years prescribed, arrangements can readily be made.

School of Music.

The Presbyterian College for Women offers exceptional advantages to music students.

Facilities for teaching, practicing and ensemble playing are wholly adequate.

The plan of instruction has a solid foundation, broad in scope and high in standard, the purpose being to present courses in each department that shall be logical, rational, systematic and productive of musical thought and culture. Attention is called particularly to the unusually complete and novel course in theoretical branches ; it is arranged as a parallel of the piano and organ courses, the object being to train the young student as thoroughly in the technics of composition and æsthetics of music as instrumentally. This course is recommended even to beginners, and at least two years' study therein will be requisite for graduation from any of the other musical departments.

A knowledge of music is now considered a necessary part of a liberal education, and society demands that a Musician, or a teacher of Music, should be trained in the Sciences and Languages as well as in his own art. The School of Music includes the study of Piano, Organ, Violin, Harmony, Counterpoint, Theory, Vocal Culture and a course of Reading and Musical History selected by the Director of Music to suit the requirements of each individual pupil, corresponding whenever possible, with the regular Collegiate curriculum.

Mr. George Paul McCoy, Musical Director, is a graduate of the New England Conservatory, has studied and taught several years in New York City and spent over two years in Berlin, perfecting himself in his art. His success for the past years in Charlotte has given him so wide a reputation that he needs no further introduction.

Miss Helen L. Foil and Miss Grace Cochrane both having received diplomas the past year have been elected as teachers in the piano department. They have each studied piano-forte playing for about ten years, and have considerable reputation as soloists.

Miss Foil and Prof. McCoy expect to spend the summer in Berlin studying music.

Pupils entering this department must have sufficient Pianoforte instructions to enable them to read readily.

A fine two-manual pipe organ of twenty stops and mechanical registers, built by Mohler & Son, has lately been placed in the Chapel for the use of students, who will also have access to the three-manual Jardine organ in the Second Presbyterian Church, of which Mr. McCoy is organist. With the pedal piano, no better advantages are offered in any institution in the South for the study of pipe organ. The following or similar works will be used :

Mr. Harry Asbury, instructor in this department, is a soloist of ability, having appeared in many concerts in this vicinity with marked success. He is a pupil of the eminent flutist, Mr. Chas. T. Howe, and is a teacher of considerable experience. The following studies will be used : Tone, Scales ; Popp's op. 280 ; Terschak's, op. 67 ; Studies for Beginners ; Studies in all the keys by Drouet ; Tongue Studies, op. 288, by Will Popp. Flute duos by Kuhlman and Devienne. Certificates will be given to those passing an examination in Musical History, Harmony and Theory, and possessing knowledge of phrasing and technical skill sufficient to play the fifty studies of Cramer and Bach's Inventions according to metronome time with selections from the best composers of this grade, with one public recital during year.

Diplomas will be given to those completing the full course in Piano and Theoretical studies, not less than two quarters of lessons on pipe organ, a knowledge of voice and some experience in teaching, with one public recital during year.

Arrangements have been made for graduates to continue their music advanced studies at the Royal School of Music of Berlin, Germany, or the Peabody Institute of Baltimore.

School of Art.

The methods are those pursued in most modern Art Schools; the course is progressive and includes the essentials of art education. It is designed to enable the pupil to do original work. The mere making of pictures or copying from the flat is discouraged and every effort is made to inculcate the true principles of art. The course includes Black and White work, China Painting, Water Color, Coloring Photographs, Pyrography, Pastel and Oil Painting, and such branches of decoration as are desired. The lady in charge has had fine advantages in New York studios and an extended experience in some of the best Southern institutions.

Physical Culture.

The Swedish system has been adopted and the lady in charge will use such movements and exercises as are practicable until the College can provide a suitably equipped gymnasium. Miss Jones attended the Boston Normal School, where she received thorough instruction; she has for two years past been a successful teacher in the College. The pupils show marked improvement in general carriage and in physical development under her careful and intellectual training. Much advantage is derived from free gymnastics, with which we shall have to content ourselves for the present. "We hope some good man or woman will give us better equipment in the near future."

Miss Anthony will give lessons in æsthetic movements to resident pupils free. A small fee will be required of outside pupils in Miss Anthony's classes.

NOTE.—The above courses are intended for students who are working for the regular degrees. Advanced students, or those wishing to pursue only special studies of their own choosing will be permitted to do so, and work equivalent to that prescribed will be accepted when approved by the Faculty. ALL ELECTIVES MUST BE APPROVED BY THE FACULTY.

ADMISSION, EXAMINATIONS, ETC.

Admission into any class will be granted only on examination or to holders of certificates from former teachers.

To be permitted to proceed with her class the student must make, by recitation and examination during the year, an average of at least 75. There will be frequent general examinations during the year. Pupils obtaining a class average of 97 will be excused from examinations. Quarterly reports will be sent to parents or guardians.

The results of these examinations, combined with the average of class standing, are included in the reports at the end of the term, and this combined report determines the standing of a pupil in her classes. Absence from examinations will not be excused, except at discretion of the Principal. Unexcused absence will not only cause loss of standing, but may subject the student to further discipline.

The results of examinations will not be announced to students, until the examination reports have been presented to the Faculty, and such reports must be ready for presentation within five days after the examination is held.

Students are graded and reported by individual marks. No graduations will be made known to students except by order of the Faculty.

Diplomas.

To receive a Diploma with an A. B. degree from this institution students are required to complete the four years' course of study to the satisfaction of the Faculty. Some studies in the Junior and Senior years are elective, but five must be chosen and pursued the two years.

Certificates of Proficiency will be given to those pupils who complete satisfactorily the course of study in any school. No reports, certificates or diplomas will be delivered, until all bills are settled.

A graduation fee of $5.00 for Diplomas and $2.50 for Certificates is charged at the close of the College course. Certificates and Diplomas will not be granted until College dues are paid.

Boarding Department.

The girls, in their domestic life in the dormitory, are under the direct care of the Matron and the lady teachers, who will have rooms in different parts of the building, the Principal exercising general supervision.

The dormitory is made a pleasant home for the girls, and special attention is given to their social life and to their health and comfort.

Each dormitory floor has bath rooms supplied with hot and cold water and convenient toilet rooms.

Special arrangements are made for the care of the sick in apartments set apart for their use and carefully furnished with reference to comfort and convenience. In case of serious illness, parents or guardians will be promptly informed and every attention bestowed. In such cases a nurse will be employed at the patient's expense. The household physician is in daily attendance to check incipient disease at the outset.

Students are required to keep their rooms so that they can be inspected at any time between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Every effort will be made to give the character of a home ; only such restrictions as are considered important for health, safety and improvement are thrown around the pupil. Teachers and students are members of the same household and mingle on terms of intimate social intercourse. Earnest and careful efforts are made to develop well rounded Christian characters, to evolve true, pure, modest women, who will make the world better for being in it.

The religious features of the household have, therefore, been carefully considered. Bible study is a part of the curriculum and God's Word will be made the rule of life in the family. Sabbath school will be conducted by resident teachers and all the boarding pupils expected to attend.

All boarding pupils will be required to attend church services on Sunday unless Providentially hindered.

Notes, bouquets or any other form of communication or marks of attention to boarding pupils from persons outside of the College are prohibited, unless authorized by consent of the Principal. Day pupils are forbidden, under penalty of exclusion from the school, to receive or to deliver communications of any kind whatever from or to the boarders, without the permission of the President.

Students are not allowed to receive callers on the Sabbath, or in their rooms.

Boarders are required to be punctual at meals, and no one will be excused except in case of sickness, when she must go to the Infirmary. Meals will not be served in dormitories. Perfect neatness in dress will be required at all meals.

Parents or guardians who place their daughters in the College are understood to accept the conditions as defined in this Catalogue.

Letters concerning the students personally should be addressed to the President.

DORMITORY ROOM.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Students are expected to be as courteous and thoughtful for others as in refined Christian homes. No student who repeatedly violates the rules will be retained. The parents or guardians of such persons will be requested to take them home.

Promptness in attention to duties will be required of all.

Breakage or unnecessary damage to College property will be charged for.

All property should be plainly marked with the owner's name ; whatever needs to be washed, with indelible ink.

Teachers and students are required to furnish their own towels, bed-clothing, including blankets, sheets, spreads, pillow cases, 20 by 28 inches ; table napkins, clothes-bags, and a small teaspoon and a drinking glass for their private use in their own rooms.

Students must bring umbrellas, overshoes and water-proof cloaks, all plainly marked.

A part of every Saturday must be spent by pupils in regulating their wardrobes, repairing clothing, writing home and similar duties.

When pupils have selected a course of study they will be required to adhere to it, unless permitted by the Faculty to make a change.

An unexcused absence is considered a delinquency and will be reported as such to the parent or guardian of the student. It is also counted zero in the class mark.

No student or students shall be permitted to make or unite in making any party, festive entertainment or celebration without special permission of the President.

No class meeting or other meetings of the students shall be held, nor shall any society be organized, without the special permission of the President, and then only for such purposes as shall be specified.

All recitations, essays, etc., to be delivered by students in public, or designed for publication, are subject to control and revision by the Faculty. All programmes for celebrations or other public occasions at the College must be submitted to the President for approval before printing.

Parents are requested not to send boxes of eatables, except fruit, to their daughters. They are productive of sickness and loss of time.

The fare will be of such quantity, quality and variety that it will be entirely useless to attempt to supplement it by boxes. No eatables except fruit will be allowed in dormitories.

Communications from parents or guardians concerning withdrawal, leave of absence or visiting must be made direct to the President in advance and not through the students. Requests not conforming to this rule will not be considered. The right is reserved to the President to refuse such requests when in his judgment it would be unwise to grant them. The College authorities do not recognize the right of parents or guardians to withdraw or detain students from any academic duty, except for reasons approved by them.

Borrowing money, jewelry, books or wearing apparel is prohibited.

The entire supervision of every department of the College is vested in the President. Frequent visits from members of the Board of Trustees are invited.

Day pupils or pupils taking special courses and not resident, will have access only to rooms and exercises connected with their studies, unless by special permission. Nor will they be allowed to visit boarding pupils in their rooms.

Parents cannot give their daughters permission to do what is prohibited, nor to omit what is required by the rules of the College and these rules apply to all students.

Students are not allowed to purchase any article on credit without written permission from parents or guardians. The amount so authorized must be specified. But the making of bills under any circumstances is discouraged.

A teacher will do the necessary shopping for the young ladies. When necessary a chaperon will be provided.

Young gentlemen visitors will not be received by resident students without written permission from parents or guardians, and then only on week days after 4 p. m. and before 9 p. m.

Students will not be permitted to spend the night out of the College.

Parents are requested to furnish the President with a list of persons with whom their daughters may correspond.

No visits will be made except at the discretion of the President.

Lectures, Concerts, Etc.

A number of lectures upon a variety of topics are given at intervals during the year. These lectures are open to all the students, and are delivered at intervals of three or four weeks.

The boarding pupils, invariably under charge of members of the Faculty, have frequent opportunities of attending lectures, concerts, &c., in the city. The Star Course of the Y. M. C. A. enables them to enjoy some especially fine entertainments during the winter.

Literary Societies.

The students have organized two Literary Societies, the Gamma Sigma and the Pierian. These societies have a large membership and are accomplishing much good for themselves and for the College. Under their fostering care a very good library has been started. They hope with the assistance of the Alumnæ, some of whom have already presented valuable books, to have their shelves filled with good, useful works and such reference books as they and the College authorities shall be enabled to supply.

These societies publish the "Polymnian," a magazine, devoted to literary, scientific and College interests. The success of the past year gives hope of wider circulation and increased advantages.

Readings, recitations, discussions, essays and musical numbers constitute the programme of the societies, fostering and promoting literary and social culture.

Membership in one of these societies is obligatory.

The Third Quarter ends March 26th, 1900.

The Fourth Quarter ends May 31st, 1900.

N. B.—All bills will be rendered quarterly, and unless otherwise specifically agreed upon, must be paid for the first quarter on entrance and thereafter on or before the first day of each quarter.

No student will be received for less than the entire session or such part as remains after the date of entrance, except by special agreement.

N. B.—The enrollment of a student's name on the College books renders the parent or guardian responsible; and shall be deemed a formal and explicit contract for her to remain until the close of the school year. If withdrawn, no portion of the fees will be refunded unless withdrawal is necessitated by sickness, the sufficiency of which is to be judged by a physician, or for Providential reasons.

No deduction will be made for absence, unless caused by sickness for as long a period as one month.

N. B.—Money for books, music and incidental expenses will not be advanced, a deposit of ten or fifteen dollars should be made with the President at the beginning of each term; an itemized account of the expenditure will be rendered.

Pupils matriculating during the first two weeks of the term are charged as from first day of the term. After that time they are charged as from date of entrance.

No deduction for any cause will be allowed to students withdrawing during the last four weeks of the session.

The medical fee covers the daily attendance of the College physician. Should serious or critical illness occur, the most skilled physicians of the city will be called in. In that case their fees must be paid in addition.
